CONDITION OF THE MARKETS

Chicago "Bulls" Again Squeezed by the "Bears" in the Speculative Pits.

Wheat Hammered Down to $1.10 1-4 for April and May, and to $1.08 3-4 for July-All Other Articles Also Down in Price.

MONEY, BONDS AND STOCKS.

Gould Shares More Active Than Usual-The Money Question Troubling ('1e "Bears." NEW YORK, April 22,-Money on call was easy, ranging from 3 to 4 per cent., the last loan being made at 3, closing offered at 3. Prime mercantile paper, 5@7 per cent.

Sterling exchange quiet and steady at $4.8514 for sixty-day bills and $4.8812 for

The total sales of stocks to-day were 282,198 shares, including the following: Atchison, 22,677; Louisville & Nashville, 3,950; Missouri Pacific, 16,475; Northwestern, 3,810; North American, 3,875; Northern Paeific preferred, 20,400; Pacific Mail, 7,260; St. Paul, 133,015; Union Pacific, 31,120; Wheeling & Lake Erie, 4,120; Wheeling & Lake Erie preferred, 4,021.

The stock market to-day again gave evidence of its inherent strength, though the improvement in values in the general list was small and the volume of business was not equal to that of a few days ago. The Gould stocks came to the front, and the rise yesterday in Wabash was followed by a similar movement in Missouri Pacific and Union Pacific, the only stocks comparable in strength to these being the Wheeling & Lake Erie shares, which are now feeling the full effects of the advance in the dividend rate on the preferred. The same stocks still led in the market, however, and evidences of realizing still pre-sented themselves from time to time, although there was no particular pressure of stocks for sale at any time, and the movements outside of these mentioned were generally confined within narrow limits. The traders, to some extent, shifted their position over to the bull side, presumably on the supposition that the Gould interest is enlisted on that side of the market, and the prompt denial of the interview ascribed to Mr. Gould gave increased confidence to the buying of the stocks with which he is most closely identified at present. The absence of pressure tified at present. The absence of pressure to sell on the part of the local operators had much to do with the diminution of the volume of business, but the money question is again beginning to trouble the "bears," and the late reaction has put a great many out of the market for the present. The late dealings to-day, however, gave evidence that fresh blood is forthcoming, and the confident tone of the talk heard on the street shows that the fear of a flurry between this and July 1 is confined to a few interested individuals. The move-ment toward this center from the interior is increasing, and the effort to put the twenty million dollars fractional silver into circulation will in all probability increase the available funds leanable in the market. In the late dealings there was another effort to bring the industrials to the front, the Cotton-oil stocks being selected for this purpose, and all of them were advanced sharply, the new stock showing a gain of 2 per cent. They were, during most of the day, kept quiet, and the others moved with the general list. Railroad bonds were quiet again, the sales reaching only $1,159,000, with no special animation anywhere in the list, and while a firm tone prevailed, as a rule, throughout the day, there were no special improvements of importance. The Oregon Improvement fives were still prominent, but failed to advance, and the business done was very widely distributed without developing any feature of interest. The market closed firm.

Government bonds were firm but quiet State bonds were entirely neglected. Clos-

TRADING AT CHICAGO. "Bears" Make Another Onelaught on the "Buli" Forces and Raid Prices Down. CHICAGO, April 22.-The excitement in the wheat pit on the Board of Trade was continued to-day. As on yesterday the "bears" had the best of it and they improved their opportunities by forcing a further reduction in values. There were occasional rallies but the general tendency was downward and the net result of the day's trading was a reduction of 21se in values. The other articles dealt in sympathized with the weakness in wheat and show a material loss in prices. At the tap of the opening boll the "dears" swarmed into the wheat pis apparently resolved to recoup themselves for the losses which they sustained during the recent advance.
They played a bold game and their onslaught was irresistible. The New York contingent, which lod the recent advance, was selling out its wheat and most of the local "bulls" followed their lead, though they were inclined to buy on the breaks by which they were losers, but the breaks came in too rapid succession. The "bear" contingent seemed to call the market successfully at all times, and got the benefit of all the action there was in it. They put out their wheat on the hard spots, took it back on the breaks and again flooded the market when it rallied. "Bulls," who had hoped for the price to take a decided turn higher, were in this way drowned out several times. Schwartz, Bloom, Linn and several others of this class were working successfully on the "short" side. They carried the day at the start in spite of the fact that the opening English cables were steady and tirm, and London quoted cargoes higher. Later cables were all lower, with Liverpool showing 12d decline. London was quoted easier, and Paris 80@90 centimes lower for flour, and 65 centimes lower for wheat for future delivery, the latter equal to about 11sc per bushel decline. Domestic news was mostly bullish. Bradstreets reported a decrease for the week of 1,325,000 bushels in ble stocks of wheat east of the Rockies Cadecrease of 800,000 bushels west. Pillsbury reported sales of 15,000 sacks of flour to London at tor prices, and Milwankee reported the sale of 56,000 bushels for immediate shipment to New York. On the other hand, the weather was reported as more favorable in France for the growing crops. The receipts in the Northwest were somewhat larger. July wheat started at $1.10@1.10<sup>1</sup>2 sold off to $1.09<sup>5</sup>8, recovered to $1.10<sup>1</sup>2 and then broke to $1.08<sup>5</sup>8. After rallying to $1.0914, it again eased off to $1.0878, closing weak at $1.083; @1.0878. May opened at $1.11@1.12-2, and sold off to $1.10, closing at 14@3sc higher. Corn was weak as wheat. Orders to sell came from shippers and outside speculators as well as the local "bears." The latter covered some of their "short" sales on the breaks. July started at 66% 26740, broke and ranged around to 6614@661ge thereafter.

The fine weather greatly increased the bearish sentiment. Oats followed corn closely, and was very dull throughout most of the session, except for the weakness which culminated in a break of 114c. Provisions opened weak, in sympathy with to 663ce, rallied to 67c, broke again to 66c, ing as the session advanced. July started at $13, sold to $12.20, and recovered to $12.87\(^12\). Ribs were weaker, though, relatively, than pork at the start, but later that condition was reversed. Ribs were .12\(^12\)20. 15c lower at the close than on Tuesday and lard .10c lower. INDIANAPOLIS MARKETS. Trade Continues to Improve with Few Fluc-

INDIANAPOLIS, April 22. - Trade in nearly all lines, with the continued warm weather, is increasing to a very satisfactory volume, while prices, as a rule, are very firm and steady. The produce markets are steady and very active. Eggs are arriving more freely, but prices do not decline. In groceries there is good distribution in progress; it seems impossible to supply the demand for sugars. Eastern papers report that granulated is the only kind that is at all in good supply, but even of that there is not much more than enough to supply the demand, while of other grades there is a scarcity. Most of the retineries are heavily oversold and there is the prospect of a strong market for some time to come. It is a fact, however, that consumers are buying freely. In instances bought, a barrel is now being taken, the low price attracting buyers. This the low price attracting buyers. This must necessarily lead to a mayked falling off in the demand before very long, in which case prices are likely to go lower. There is also the prospect of importations from abroad, should prices here warrant such. There has been a better demand for coffee here and prices are firm. The recent large receipts have, to a great extent, gone to distributors at interior points, and dealers on the seaboard are now in need of dealers on the seaboard are now in need of supplies, but find stocks in first hands are small. The advices from Rio are very favorable, and a strong market is reported there. Maracaibo and Java grades are firm and in demand here, and the prospects are good for a large and steady trade during the rest of the month. The promision market is more active than at any time in months, and prices are very firm, and flour is meeting with better sale than for many months, as well.

The local market, which has been running wild for ten days past, to-day had a backset and prices were off on all cereals and the market duil. Prices to-day ruled as follows:

A farmer on 140 acres of land asks me what fruits he can raise and not have them interfere seriously with farm work. He has two small boys whom he wishes to interest and keep contentedly on the farm if possible, and he further asks whether he couldn't make fruit-growing pay as a sort of annex to his farming. As to the latter part of the inquiry I would answer decidedly no, if the farming is done as it might and should be. I know a number of farmers with farms of half that size who are wholly occupied in managing and working them in regular farm crops.

I have a neighbor with less than one hundred acres who paid 25 cents each for grubbing up a ten-acre orchard of apple and pear trees just coming into bearing, that he might devote the ground to a rotation of crops. The neighbors all considered him crazy, but the outcome has proved that the land has been more profitable in farm crops than in orchard. The last season six acres of this land produced 800 bushels of potatoes, worth $1.18 per bushel. This man is an enthusiast in farming and not in fruit-growing, and more suc-cessful in some of his farming than the ma-jority. When he was grubbing his orchard it seemed to me that it would have been wiser to have grubbed two rows and left two rows alternately, and this would have left long strips capable of unimpeded cultivation while it gave an extra chance to the remaining trees. There are many orchards where such a course would give new life to the trees left and possibly result in no may answer for midsummer, but at this diministrate of the crop. diminution of the crop. are some fruits that succeed tolerably well in drained, rich ground without much cul-tivation, especially if they are where fowls run, and of these no farmer ought to fail to have enough to supply his family. These, in the order of ease of growth and minimum of care, are cherries, grapes, black-berries, pears, summer and fall apples, quinces and currants.

Sweet Potatoes.

St. Louis Republic. These thrive best in a sandy, loamy soil and while a good stage of fertility is desirable, there is no advantage in having it too rich, as the plants will make too much growth of vine. In a majority of cases it will be best to grow the vines in a hot-bed. This can be made by putting a layer of fresh horse manure at least a foot thick on the ground, taking care to spread out evenly and to tramp it down firm. Over this spread a layer of good loamy soil, three or four inches deep. In order to hold this in place boards should be set on edge around on the outside. A supply of boards to cover well should be provided. This plan will be found more convenient than digging out a place and making the hot-bed in the ground rather than on it. Put the tubers in reasonably close together and cover with an inch of soil. Let the bed remain open to the sun every day when the weather will permit, but at night and on stormy days it will be nearly always best to

The most economical plan is to grow the potatoes in ridges. They are less trouble to make and to cultivate than are separate hills for each plant. With a two-horse plow the ridges can be thrown up, and with a rake or prong-hoe be properly fined. Prepare the soil in a good tilth before setting out the plants, as the plants will make a better start to grow and the cultivation will be easier. When the plants have made enough growth in the bed and the soil is properly prepared, take up a lot of the plants, have a shallow vessel partly filled with good soil and water made into the consistency of cream, dip the roots of the plants into this, taking pains to stir around so as to get as much of the soil as possible to adhere to the roots. Then with a garden-trowel or dibble make a place for the plant, put in the plant and fill the soil well in around the roots. Care in this respect is important, as more plants are lost from a failure to do this properly than from any other one cause. When it is done properly no shading will be necessary, and in an ordinary season nearly or quite all of the plants will grow. Sufficient cultivation must be given to keep down the weeds and work the soil in a good tilth. The vines must be lifted occasionally to prevent them from taking root and when there is an excessive growth of vrne it will be a good plan to cut off the ends of the vines; it makes a better yield of patatoes. A Full Explanation.
